GEO SUBASH

INDUSTRIAL DESIGN

Kochi, Kerala | geosubash.in | behance.net/geosubash | geo.2023ug023@nid.ac.in

Hi, I'm Geo, an industrial design student at NID Andhra Pradesh. I design products and build them far enough to test them: the form, the electronics inside and the code that runs them. Most of my projects start from something I've noticed in everyday life.

PROJECTS

Assisted transfer device
Technically Complex Product Design, 2026
A compact, helper-centred device that helps one family caregiver move an older adult with moderate lower-body ability between bed, chair and commode at home.

Anchor
Interactive Product Design, 2026
A reminder device that helps older adults keep track of one-off tasks outside their daily routine, like a bank visit or a short course of medicine.

ReBrush
Simple Product Design, 2025
A holder for two used toothbrushes that lets motorcycle riders clean both sides of the chain at once, with the hand kept away from the sprocket.

Hyundai Creta CMF
Colour, Material and Finish, 2025
A colour, material and finish proposal for the Hyundai Creta, based on trends in fashion, lifestyle and premium headphones, in six colourways inside and out.

Lapcare WL-102
Detailing and Assembly
A teardown and redesign of a wireless keyboard, with USB-C charging and media keys. The screw count went from 16 to 6.

FR4 Deck
Personal project, 2026
A music player and Bluetooth receiver with sixteen keys and no touchscreen, built on an ESP32.

Skyra
Brand identity, 2026
A brand identity for a rainwater harvesting company in Kochi, covering the visiting card, company profile, office sign and social posts.
